The Housing Counseling Program provides time-limited financial counseling for low-income individuals and families who are experiencing a financial crisis and are at risk of becoming homeless.

The programs can provide limited financial assistance for rent and security deposits.

Assistance is also available to pay for past due utility bills to avoid cutting off of electricity or water.

The program also provides food vouchers for families who have no food.

Homeless Intervention Program - designed to prevent homelessness by providing one-time emergency financial assistance for households threatened with foreclosure or eviction. Accessibility: Fully handicapped accessible.
